

Philip B. Hopkins, III, Vice President

Career Summary

Mr. Hopkins is an information Technology professional with over 20 years of progressive experience in the planning, developing and leading of information service organizations. In-depth knowledge of enterprise computing environments and delivery of technology services. Business and client focused in developing strategies to lead the organization in meeting short and long term goals.

June 2007 - Present

Mr. Hopkins currently holds the position of Vice President and Practice Director, Infrastructure for Tamarack Management & Consulting LLC, a company that specializes in Information Technology Management, Infrastructure and Application software design, development, implementation and support, Business Continuity and Disaster Recovery planning and testing.

January 2006 – June 2007

Mr. Hopkins held the position of Divisional Information Officer at Mortgage Lenders Network USA, Inc. He worked directly with business line leadership to develop strategic technology plans in alignment with business plans for all corporate divisions. He was responsible for the successful development and implementation of all IT initiatives on behalf of corporate business lines.

April 1997 – January 2006

Mr. Hopkins held various Director level management positions at Mortgage Lenders Network USA, Inc. Managing the operations of a technology infrastructure with a fully redundant Wide Area Network utilizing separate carriers with full diverse paths, to 8 regional locations with over 1900 nodes. He also managed the support and infrastructure for a Loan Servicing Center with over $19 billion worth of loans being serviced and 250 person call center. He is experienced in performance and high availability management, business continuity, disaster recovery, EMC Storage Area Networks and the new virtualization technologies of VMware and Citrix.